

NUCLEAR DANGERS

A Zoom discussion with

Prof. Martin E. Hellman and Prof. Benoît Péloupidas with Dr. Ivana Hughes moderating

LUCK IS NOT A STRATEGY

Martine E. Hellman, Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering, Stanford University, is best known for his invention, with Diffie and Merkle, of public key cryptography, the technology that, among other uses, enables secure Internet transactions. He is currently focused on Rethinking National Security.

Prof. Hellman is a member of the National Academy of Engineering and the recipient of the ACM Turing Award, often called "the Nobel Prize of Computer Science."

Professor Benoît Péloupidas is the founding director of the Nuclear Knowledges program at Sciences Po (CERI) in Paris. He is also an affiliate of the Center for International Security and Cooperation (CISAC) at Stanford University. Prof. Péloupidas focuses on the institutional, conceptual, imaginal and memorial underpinnings of nuclear weapons. He has engaged with influencers from all over the world to reconnect democracy, intergenerational justice, and nuclear policy.
